

PRIME PRACTICE: Lead Better, Inspire More: Emotional Intelligence and the Art of Influence in Leadership

LECTURE

Speaker: Jen Cox, Business Coach

Jen is a dynamic Consultant, Business Coach, and Speaker with over 13 years' experience, including 8 years in the dental industry. With a strong focus on behavioural and psychological growth, she helps individuals and businesses achieve meaningful, sustainable change through practical strategy and inspired guidance.

About

Great leadership today is about more than authority — it is about influence, emotional intelligence, and authenticity. This engaging and practical session explores how emotionally intelligent leaders build stronger connections, inspire trust, and bring out the best in their teams. It will cover the four core emotional intelligence competencies essential for effective leadership and demonstrate how these capabilities underpin authentic and courageous leadership in today's fast-changing dental practice environment.

Designed for leaders at all levels, this session provides clear insights, relatable examples, and actionable takeaways to empower leaders to lead with confidence, clarity, and impact.

LECTURE 2

Speaker 2 : Lyrebird Health

Lyrebird Health is an AI Scribe for Medical Practitioners that securely listens in the background throughout your consultation, then intelligently generates a note tailored to your style, ready to transfer into the medical record.

About

LECTURE: This lecture will introduce Lyrebird's AI scribe for use in dental practice. It will save much time and effort in creating and maintaining patient records.

Consult

Focus on patients, not paperwork.

At its core, Lyrebird listens to your consultation, transcribes it, and generates structured clinical notes and documents like referral letters or medical certificates. Use the AI chatbot to draft letters with the full context of the consultation. Watch the short demonstration video to see it in action.

Notes

Automatically structured in formats like SOAP, presenting complaint, or your custom templates.

Documents

Generated directly from your notes, including referrals, certificates, and more—ready for review.
